Form 990, Part VI, Line 4 - Significant Changes to Organizational Documents
Here are the changes to the Organization's bylaws:

Name of the organization

Employer identification number

Plan-B Theatre Company

87-0542630

Section 1: A sentence was added allowing us to designate other Plan-B locations if this is every needed without amending the bylaws.

Section 2.2: Any director whose term expires without a replacement being named remains a director until their replacement is appointed. The roles of the Artistic and Managing Directors will be non-voting board members and excused from any decision-making processes which affect their compensation or anything of that nature. There is no need to make any changes to our conflict-of-interest policies.

Section 2.3: A board member may be removed with or without cause by a majority vote. A board member who is removed has the right to inform the Utah Department of Corporations that they are no longer on the board.

Section 2.5: This section now designates the board will meet at least one time during the year.

Section 2.9: Clarifies the positions of Chairperson, Secretary, and Treasurer and vice-chair or co-chair if needed. Officers are elected by majority vote for a one-year term and can be successively elected.

Section 2.10: Adds a description of the duties of the Chairperson. The descriptions of duties of Secretary and Treasurer have been moved from a former section to this section in order to clarify that these are board officers not corporate officers.

Name of the organization Plan-B Theatre Company	Employer identification number 87-0542630

Section 2.12: In virtual meetings, everyone must be able to be seen and heard by everyone else in attendance.

Section 2.13: This section clarifies what it means to have a document signed. If someone responds by email and types their name, it will count as signed.

Section 2.17: This section allows during a true emergency, whoever can show up to a meeting can make decisions with less than a quorum.

Section 3.1: Designates an Artistic Director and a Managing Director. If other officers are needed, they may be designated by the board. Anyone who is a board member has a fiduciary duty to the organization. This means the person is making decisions with the best interests of the organization in mind and not an individual. All corporate officers also have fiduciary obligations. This duty will apply to all future officers.

Section 3.3: Officers can be compensated but cannot vote on their own compensation.

Section 3.6: This section clarifies the responsibilities of the Artistic Director and Managing Director. A statement will be added to clarify that the positions are equal in responsibility and compensation and each reports to the Board of Directors and not to each other.

Section 4.1: This section lays out indemnification of board members from personal liability if the organization is sued for any reason. Legal fees will be covered by the corporation.

Section 4.2: States if the corporation has sufficient funds or insurance, the organization shall indemnify board members up to what is permitted by law.

Section 6.4: The IRS says as a charitable organization we are responsible to ensure any monies received are spent in a manner appropriate for our charitable purposes. This section reserves the right to inform a donor that the organization will do its best to ensure the funds are spent in the way the donor requests but ultimately the decision remains with the organization. This is different if we specifically apply for a grant. This deals with anonymous or large donations from individuals that are not expected.

Section 6.8: Deals with how to amend, alter or repeal the bylaws or adopt new bylaws in the future. A board majority can amend the bylaws. The Utah Nonprofit Corporations Act is very permissive in terms of what it allows in bylaws and how organizations are structured. We should not be afraid to change or amend bylaws.

Form 990, Part VI, Line 11b - Organization's Process to Review Form 990
